

A THOUGHT PROVOKING EVENING OF REFLECTIONS ON ARCTIC JOURNEYS

WITH:

STEPHEN DOUGHTY FRGS

Stories from the not so frozen North
Since 1972 when Stephen first went to Greenland, the Arctic has changed out of all recognition. Dislocation of aboriginal peoples, economic activity and now climate change have all had their impact. These changes have their origin in the Industrialised South, now with serious implications for us! Stephen offers some positive ways of engaging with the questions posed. Have an evening of Arctic stories and history that will leave you entertained and thinking .....

Resolis Memorial Hall : The Black Isle IV7 8LL
Saturday 15th December 2012 @ 7.30

Tickets on the door £5.00      Refreshments available

Share of the Proceeds go to: The Youth Elder Project: Developing Young People to Lead Social Change