

Black Isle festival of firewood, forests and film

All day from 10am
Thursday 17th November 2011
Fortrose Theatre

A day of firewood advice, demonstrations, discussion and displays, followed by a tasty buffet and an evening of award-winning films - all absolutely free of charge!

Black Isle Festival of firewood, forests and film

Thursday 17th November

10am - 5.30pm

Firewood Festival

...featuring exhibits, demonstrations... all you need to know about heating with wood!

5.30 - 6.30pm

A light buffet Supper

6.30 onwards

Forest films

...a chance to see a selection of the award-winning films from the 2011 UN Forest Film Festival.

The 2011 UN Forest Film Festival

As part of the International Year of Forests 2011, a film festival and competition took place. Tonight we are showing some of the best films from the festival:

The Queen of Trees (52 mins) - The remarkable story of an African fig tree and the special relationship it has with a tiny insect partner.

Satuyama (51 mins) - An incredible film exploring an ancient oak forest in Japan.

Switch Today (1 min) - A short film all about where your toilet paper comes from!

Hope in a Changing Climate (28 mins) - a heartening story of rehabilitation of damaged ecosystems in China and Africa.

Transition
Black Isle

The image of the oak is by Flickr User Longhorn Dave and is used under a Creative Commons Attribution License

For more information see www.usegreenheat.co.uk or www.transitionblackisle.org or call Amanda Galvert 08000 28 58 58